To Whom It May Concern

Ismail Mahomed joined Armstrong Construction in 2001 as a student Quantity Surveyor. At that stage, Ismail and I were the only two office staff. I have mentored him over the years and am pleased to say that Ismail worked his way from the bottom to become leading Quantity Surveyor & Contracts Manager in the construction industry. Ismail has been part of Armstrong Construction from its humble beginnings and has been an integral part of its growth to the successful firm that it is today.

Besides being a pleasure to work with, Ismail is a hands-on, take-charge person who accept responsibility and is able to present creative ideas and solutions. He has successfully developed his own unique practical way to hand over project timeously. This has resulted in increased revenue without compromising quality and also ensuring that our clients are satisfied.

Ismail is a born leader, he has the ability to motivate ordinary people to achieve extraordinary tasks. During his tenure, we saw an increase in profits on his projects. The profits were as a direct result of Ismail's hands on management style. Ismail multi tasked every project - he project managed and did his own quantity surveying on his projects.

In addition to being an asset to the site management of our construction projects, Ismail was also extraordinarily helpful in other areas. He has always proven to be a conscientious, hard working individual, who consistently kept the best interests of the company at the forefront of his efforts. He took responsibility and was not afraid to work long hours to achieve our goals. Timeous delivery, cost effectiveness and profitability were always Ismail's objectives and his honesty was never questioned.

I have no doubt whatsoever that Ismail will carry these very valuable traits through into his own enterprise, and I am confident that he will make a success of his venture.
